Keynotes

Meeting the Multiple Needs of Students with EBD Within Three-Tiered Models of Prevention: Promising Practices

Dr. Kathleen Lynne Lane is an associate professor in the Dept. of Special Education at Vanderbilt University and an investigator in the Vanderbilt Kennedy Center. Dr. Lane is the primary investigator of Project WRITE, a Grant funded through the Institute for Educational Sciences, that examines the efficacy of writing interventions for students with EBD who are also poor writers. She is also the PI of an OSEP-directed project studying positive behavior support at the high school level and the PI of a field-initiated project studying prevention of behavior disorders at the elementary level. She has expertise in school-based intervention and statistical analysis including multivariate analysis of longitudinal data sets. She serves on seven editorial boards including Exceptional Children, the Journal of Special Education, and Journal of Emotional and Behavioral Disorders and is an associate editor for Journal of Positive Behavior Interventions. Dr. Lane has authored three books and published over 60 refereed journal articles and book chapters.

Mental Health Can Be Taught: An Evidence Based Approach to Psychosocial Skills and Parent Effectiveness Training

Mary N. Cook, MD is a Board Certified Child and Adolescent Psychiatrist. She is the Medical Director of Clinical Services for the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at The Children's Hospital in Denver, CO and is Medical Director of the Child Psychiatry Clinic and the Intensive Family Therapy Program at the University of Colorado Hospital. She is also an Assistant Professor of Psychiatry at the University of Colorado Denver. Dr. Cook is deeply committed to training child psychiatry residents and other mental health trainees and recently won a resident nominated award for teaching excellence. She specializes in working with families with children who have been diagnosed with Disruptive Behavior Disorders. She spearheaded the development of a series of outpatient specialty clinics as well as an Intensive Outpatient Psychiatry Program at The Children's Hospital in Denver. She authored a book Counseling Kids with Emotional and Behavioral Problems in the Schools and articles on treatment of challenging kids including a therapist's manual on mastery of psychosocial skills. She is a frequent presenter in the community for schools and primary care providers. Her passion is in working with families. Dr. Cook's overarching philosophy of treatment involves minimizing use of medication while maximizing psychosocial and parenting skills.

Your Invitation

The Council for Children with Behavioral Disorders (CCBD) is pleased to present its 8th Biennial International Conference on "Strategies for Promoting Academic and Behavioral Competence of Students with Emotional/Behavioral Disorders". This transdisciplinary forum is specifically designed to strengthen the bridge between the professional services for children and youth in educational, mental health and juvenile justice settings.

All who provide direct or indirect services to students with challenging behavior can learn more effective and efficient ways to ensure quality services are available to meet the complex needs of these youths.

Highlights of this year's conference program includes numerous features:

- Forums: these sessions provide interactive opportunities to discuss critical issues and explore solutions that may improve conditions and intervention outcomes
- Workshops: these in-depth sessions are designed to provide training to enable application of new skills
- Topical Strands: these sessions offer a scope and sequence of presentations that focus on a specific topic, e.g. assessment, classroom management, instruction, mental health, PBIS,
- Invited sessions: these feature presentations by leading researchers and practitioners in the field
- International presentations: learn what professionals from a variety of countries are reporting
- Exhibit Show: will be open Friday at 8:00 am through Saturday at 3:15 pm
- Networking opportunities to develop new and renew relationships with colleagues.

About Denver: Getting Around

September is a great month to visit Denver. The average temperatures range from a high of 79°F to a low of 44°F. The Four Points by Sheraton Denver Southeast offers easy highway access and close proximity to local businesses. If you are looking for entertainment, the hotel is near several concert venues, museums, sporting facilities, and shopping areas such as the upscale Cherry Creek or the Park Meadows Mall. Access to the downtown area is conveniently available by light rail.

Guests Arriving via the Denver Airport

Most guests use the Denver SuperShuttle. Reservations are highly encouraged and necessary for the return trip. Make your reservation online (see the link on our conference web page) or via phone (303-370-1300 or 800-258-3826). Use discount code GBELT for rates of $19 per person one-way or $32 round-trip. A one-way cab ride from the airport is approximately $50-65.

Continuing Education Credits

Certificates of clock-hour participation for up to 19 hours (Thursday, Friday, Saturday) will be provided. Participants may register onsite for university credit for an additional fee through University of Northern Colorado. Please contact us for more information.

Accessibility

Please contact us by September 1, 2009 if you have any special needs.

Program Information

Program books will not be mailed out prior to the conference. On-site registration will open Wednesday, Sept. 23, at 7 pm. Check our Web site (www.behavioralinstitute.org/ccbd.htm) for additional program information and updates.

Registration Includes:

Your registration fee entitles you to conference sessions, program, attendance certificate, continental breakfasts, refreshment breaks, lunch, and admittance to the Thursday welcome reception.

About CCBD:

The Council for Children with Behavioral Disorders is the official division of the Council for Exceptional Children committed to promoting and facilitating the education and general welfare of children and youth with emotional and behavioral disorders. The goals of CCBD include:

- To promote quality educational services and programs for persons with emotional or behavioral disorders.
- To advocate for the needs of children and youth with emotional or behavioral disorders and their families.
- To encourage research and professional growth as vehicles for better understanding of emotional or behavioral disorders.
- To disseminate relevant and timely information through professional meetings, training programs, publications, and other media.
- To provide professional support for persons who are involved with and serve children and youth with emotional or behavioral disorders.
- To engage in efforts to reduce racial, cultural and gender over-representation among children and youth with emotional or behavioral disorders.
- To promote awareness and advocacy for children and youth with emotional or behavioral disorders from diverse backgrounds that foster collaborative relationships among families and professionals.
